CIOCIARO SOCIAL CLUB

144 BRIDGE STREET, NEWTON, MA 02458

DOORS OPEN AT 12:30 PM

In spite of the threat of snow and in competition with a playoff Patriots game, our meeting was well attended. There were eleven accordionists, and thirteen people in the audience. As planned, the meeting was dedicated to the women of the MAAA. Pictured above from left to right are Annmarie Pintel, Joy Indomenico, Katy Georgiadis, and Marcia Lipski who performed together and on the far right is Charlene Dwyer who performed individually during the open mic session as did Annmarie.

The MAAA is very proud of all its ladies and we are very fortunate to have them as contributing members.

The MAAA received a call from a gentleman wishing to donate and find a good home for the accordion his grandfather gave to him sixty years ago! Unfortunately, he regrets never having learned to play it. It was a well preserved Giuletti accordion. Member Joy Indomenico was looking to replace her existing instrument. It was a perfect match and the gentleman brought it to the January meeting. It now has a new home! Joy played it for him and he left with tears in his eyes.
